Předposlední úkol má archetypální námět, který všichni známe, umění ho miluje a vy si jistě svou tvorbu dnes také zamilujete.

Úkol: Nakreslete svůj labyrint. Nebo bludiště. Je v tom rozdíl, ale opatrně se také často říká sušenky. (Pak se také často unifikuje "kreslení" a "malování" ale to nebudeme lptět)

Inspirace: Saul Steinberg (1914-1999): Rumunsko-americký kreslíř a ilustrátor, veřejnosti známý především svými příspěvy do The New Yorker. Jeho lineární kresby často vizualizují abstraktní pojmy v lidské komunikaci.

Project description

The project represents a set of gradually assigned art tasks, which are based on

- 1) an introduction of a chosen artist and their work,
- 2) a short follow-up task focused on creation, perception or interpretation

An important part is the sharing within the Facebook open group platform and the possibility to respond to the work of other members.

The platform was open to all and served:

- 1) students as a means of distance learning
- 2) teachers as an inspiration for their classes
- 3) the public as a relaxation activity

Project in dates and numbers

March 12, 2020 schools were closed

March 14, 2020 the main concept of the project as a need of a quick organization of distance learning

March 16, 2020 publication of the first post

May 14, 2020 45th and the very last task was posted

45 tasks

Everyday objects

Victor Nunes: A Brazilian artist. Victor combines everyday objects with simple illustrations and he turns them into images of faces, animals and other playful scenes. His paintings encourage us to look at the world differently. Place any object on a piece of paper and finish it in a way that it is part of something else.

Karolína Čápková

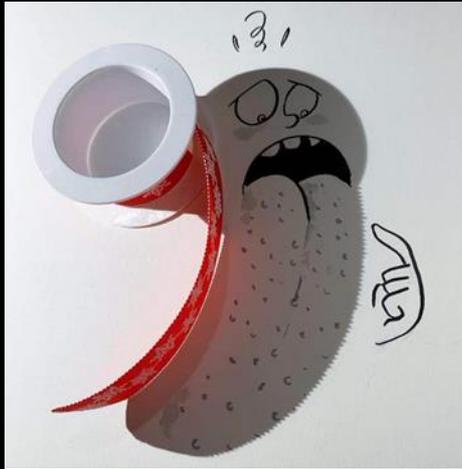

Hanička, 7 years

Shadowlogy

Vincent Bal: A Belgian filmmaker and illustrator who works with the shadows of everyday objects resting in the sun and he creates surprising situational drawings from them.

Some "dark sides" can be also cheerful. Play with unexpected shapes of shadows of everyday objects and finish them with a simple drawing. (If the ☀️ is not shining, use 🗨️📱)

Peter Galata: Titanic

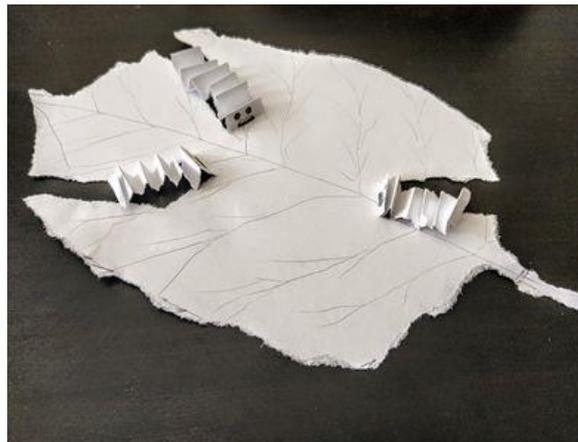

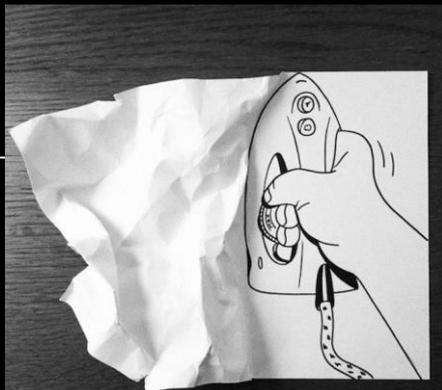

Jana Stará

PaperLUSION

HuskMitNavn (born 1975): A Danish artist. It is still not known who he is (probably Banksy's friend :). He thinks that it is terribly boring to listen to an artist explaining what his work is about, so he does not comment on it. (Such as Klimt.)

Sometimes the act of destruction does not lead to extinction but to the beginning of something new. Crumple up and tear the paper. 1) Then feel free to throw it away if it does you any good. We recommend this step even if you have sneezed or coughed on it. Or 2) You better take your face mask on and use these methods (it can be also bending, folding) and create a 3D work with a pencil.

(Use 1 piece of paper, no tape, glue, nor hot melt glue gun.)

It is watching

Keith Larsen: An American illustrator and musician who has both: imagination and the other thing. Thanks to this, his drawings are created on the basis of the faces he sees in objects. He also writes short stories to them.)

"I'm a dandy dapper dampener. Fires tickle my fancy, those are no match for me. Remove my monocle you must, for the water to flee. When it comes to parking, I know I'm a nuisance. But when your dog pees, I'm somehow translucent. I'm a damn dampened hydrant."

Have you ever seen something that wasn't really what you thought it was? This is good, because it shows that 1) your imagination is not bad at all :) or 2) you have Pareidolia ... (google it :))

Take a picture of anything that doesn't have a face and yet it is looking at you!

Tidying up

Ursus Wehrli (born 1969): A Swiss artist and comedian who became famous for his cleaning (not only) in art. Clean, sort, organize, arrange. The cleaning mania has become his work, it constantly entertains the audience and his works evoke a smile on our faces 😊. And we all need that now, don't we ?!

It is said that it is good to be occupied in the current regime, for example, with housework:)

Clean what you want according to Ursus Wehrli! Take a picture of it before and after ...
